FEATURE FILM LET THE LION ROAR EXPOSES ‘DEMONIC CONSPIRACY’ DECEIVING THE MODERN CHRISTIAN CHURCH

STARRING 24 CELEBRITIES INCLUDING KEVIN SORBO, JOHN SCHNEIDER AND ERIC ROBERTS AS FOUNDING FATHERS OF THE FAITH, LET THE LION ROAR UNCOVERS THE ‘GREAT DECEPTION’ OF THE WORLDWIDE CHURCH

Gripping docudrama transports viewers through time to reveal one of the greatest and darkest deceptions of our time – the demonic conspiracy to cover up the true identity of the worldwide Church. Challenging the modern view of Christianity, the explosive truths in LET THE LION ROAR have the power to reshape and recharge the post-modern Church.

(NASHVILLE, Tenn.) July 7, 2014 – What if the great legends and founding fathers of the Christian Church got it wrong? What if Martin Luther’s world-changing 95 Theses are actually incomplete?

In the vein of conspiracy fiction like the runaway hit The DaVinci Code, LET THE LION ROAR (Roaring Lion Productions) takes viewers back to 16th-century Europe, where the masses rejected the Catholic Church and became believers in Christ “by grace through faith” after Martin Luther and John Calvin’s writings ushered in the Reformation.

Unlike fictional accounts of the faith, however, LET THE LION ROAR reveals a true supernatural conspiracy that wove false beliefs into the very fabric of the Church – lies that keep the Church today from fulfilling God’s purpose.

Through 2-D and 3-D animation as well as live action, LET THE LION ROAR takes audiences on a journey that begins with Luther (Jason Burkey) and Calvin (Kevin Sorbo), then travels back 1,000 years earlier to fathers of the faith like Augustine of Hippo (Eric Roberts), Bishop Hilary of Pointiers (John Schneider) and Ambrose of Milan (Brad Stine). Through their words, we see and hear exactly where and how the church went wrong.

“This film deals with some very well-known, famous and important founders and fathers of church history who also had these incredibly anti-Semitic moments,” says actor Brad Stine, who plays Ambrose of Milan. “Frankly, it’s shocking. [But] If you’re a Christian, you should know what you believe. You’ve committed your life to this thing; you need to know all of its flaws. And these were brilliant men, who could also be brilliantly wrong.”

Shot in multiple locations including Geneva, Switzerland, and Nashville, Tenn., and featuring a cast and crew of more than 200, LET THE LION ROAR exposes the lie that narrator and founder of Roaring Lion Productions Derek Frank says cripples the Church's effectiveness – the lie that the Church has replaced the Jews as God's chosen people.

"The demonic conspiracy that colluded throughout history goes beyond all reckoning," says Derek Frank, narrator and founder of Roaring Lion. "Only when this sinister lie is exposed will the church be revived and have the power it should have."

In a year that has seen biblical blockbusters such as Noah and Son of God storm the box office, LET THE LION ROAR is a welcome addition to Hollywood's interpretation of the Bible and the faith.

"When my character says something about the church sleeping while God is weeping, you know, we can't sleep. We gotta get up," says actor and GRAMMY-nominated singer Jaci Velasquez, who portrays a modern Christian. "The church has been sleeping for far too long."

Directed by Vanessa Frank, LET THE LION ROAR features a stellar award-winning cast, starring Kevin Sorbo (God's Not Dead), Jason Burkey (October Baby), OSCAR Nominated Eric Roberts (The Dark Knight), Stephen Baldwin (I'm In Love With A Church Girl), John Schneider (October Baby), Michael Joiner (The Grace Card), Brad Stine (Persecuted), Jeff Rose (In Gramps' Shoes), Ben Davies (Courageous), Shannen Fields (Facing The Giants), Jaci Velasquez (Jerusalem Countdown), Jamie Grace (Grace Unplugged) and Jenn Gotzon (Alone Yet Not Alone), alongside Jeff Owen of Tenth Avenue North, Kerrie Roberts, Dani Johnson, Don Finto, Sid Roth, James Goll, Chuck Pierce, Paul Wilbur, Mark Biltz, Jonathan Bernis, Bodie Thoene, and Derek Frank. The film score includes original music by Grammy-nominated and Dove Award-winning singer and songwriter Jaci Velasquez and Grammy-nominated country music artist Tim Rushlow.

Perfect for small groups, homeschool families, Christian schools, churches and families, LET THE LION ROAR will be available in stores January as a beautifully packaged Blu-Ray/DVD-combo gift box with companion book Escaping the Great Deception.
